A Zoom meeting was held between the commissioners and Robi Culver of Stahley Engineering to discuss the proposed ambulance building. Withdrawing from the proposal to build a new ambulance barn was discussed due to concerns about a guaranteed maximum price being affected by the changing high prices of materials. If material prices increase and it affects the guaranteed maximum price, possible lawsuits could occur. The conversation about the matter will continue on Wednesday May 18th once legal counsel is present. The commissioners will consult with legal counsel on legality matters and find out if eligibility in the grant will be affected if the project dies.
